About GRID Esports

GRID is the first game title-agnostic data platform specializing in in-game live data and technology. It provides an easily deployable in-game data infrastructure and a robust distribution network for game publishers and tournament organizers such as Riot Games, BLAST, KRAFTON, and Ubisoft. GRID offers access to data, streaming, and data-powered products to professional teams, betting, media, and other data consumers. GRID's cutting-edge technology and unique expertise enable it to unlock the potential of in-game data for everyone.
