

About GRID Esports

GRID is a data platform serving the game industry with in-game data infrastructure, data management and asset distribution solutions.

The GRID Data Platform allows rights holders to manage and distribute their in-game data to various user groups, including the community, professional players, and commercial data users. GRID partners with over 70 rights holders, such as Riot Games, KRAFTON, Ubisoft, WePlay, and PGL, and offers a robust network of integrated data customers in media, fantasy, player coaching, and other categories.

GRID is headquartered in Berlin with teams in the US, Poland, Sweden, and China, and employs over 90 people globally.
